A Question of Great Importance to

Military Officials. OMAHA, May 7 .- Judge Shiras, of the federal court, today passed on the habeas federal court, today passed on the haceas corpuses at Fort Robinson, in which Lieutenant Land and Sergeant Braddin had been held under state authority for selling liquor without a license as officials in charge of the post exchange. The opinion of Judge Shiras was a comprehensive and claborate statement of the law pertaining to military reservation in general throughout the United States. It exhaustively reviewed all the authorities. He upheld in the opinion a complete and absolute jurisdiction of the general government over the military reservation in question and further that the amendatory act of Nebraska-seeking to reclaim authority to enforce its liquor laws upon this reservation was nugatory.

This settles the question of the right of the government to maintain its post exchanges without interference in any manner by state authorities. rpuses at Fort Robinson, in which Lieu-
